

Frankfort Intermediate School Title I Parent Involvement Policy

Frankfort Intermediate School recognizes parent participation as an important part of a child's academic success. Positive models are created when bonds are created between home and school. Successful family and community partnerships will follow Epstein's six types of involvement: parenting, communicating, volunteering, learning at home, decision making, and collaborating with community. In support, Title I will offer opportunities and information regarding:

- Parental notice of your child receiving reading service
- Student expectations
- Assessments and progress reports
- School newsletter and other Parent Involvement information
- Timely response to parents' needs/concerns
- Parent Advisory Council meeting
- Parent Workshops/Trainings
- Parent Conferences
- Title I School-Parent Compact planning/review
- Title I Parent Involvement Policy planning/review
- Title I school planning
- Flexible involvement opportunities

This policy will be distributed to parents of participating students, and reviewed each year during the local Parent Advisory Council meeting.
